

Olivia Oh

Profile

Hello, my name is Yeonju Oh and my English name is Olivia. I am currently searching for a Frontend Developer role to broaden my experience. I am outgoing, team-oriented and analytical. One of my strengths is persistency. I know the importance of not giving up and I am willing to dig into the code as much as I can to solve the issue.

I am highly eager to work and I take my work as an opportunity to improve myself. I am happy to work any day and any hours required. I have knowledge of Javascript, React.js, Node.js and Vue.js with using databases such as MongoDB and MySQL. I have background experience joining a team project through a boot camp and successfully finished around 7 online courses.

I believe that I can be a valued team member and have a lot to offer. I look forward to speaking with you further about the role and I am happy to address any questions you may have.
